

MAJOR PARTIES TO FIGHT FOR LABOR SUPPORT

Offensive Begun By Gompers Threatens To Take Votes.

LABOR NON PARTISAN

Leaders Declare Ballots Will Be Cast For Their Friends.

Washington, July 27.—The smashing offensive begun by President Samuel Gompers and the American Federation of Labor against all "enemies" of the workingman, threatens to give the labor group the balance of power in the November election. Scouting danger, campaign managers of both Democratic and Republican parties are planning to go after the labor vote as they have never gone after any vote before.

A week from next Saturday the executive councils of the forty eight state federations affiliated with the national organization will call special meetings for the purpose of getting "together" with the national campaign committee of the American Federation of Labor sitting at Washington. At these conferences the records of senators and congressmen up for re-election this fall will be gone into thoroughly and passed upon as favorable or unfavorable to the worker. Labor's national political campaign will then be co-ordinated through the committee here and from that time blossom into full force and vigor.

ELECTIONS CLOSE.
The November elections will be close, the two big parties now admit. Leaders of both parties say the fight will be bitter and that the winner when it is over will know he has been in a man's size scrap.

Labor's vote, all agree, will be extremely important this year, if not vital. It stands to be the biggest ever cast by organized workmen. Labor officials estimate their membership at four and a half million with a voting strength of close on to four million. Samuel Gompers declares this vote is non partisan and will be cast for those men who in congress or back home in their respective states, have been most friendly toward labor.

A small percentage of laborers vote only as behind the Chicago labor convention held this month, according to officials of the American Federation here. President Gompers himself is on record as opposing a labor party, as such, preferring a non partisan attitude, leaving labor free to cast its vote for its "friends" Republican here, Democratic there, according to the legislative records of each particular candidate.

UNFINISHED RACE TO BE COMPLETED TUESDAY IS HOPE

Yachts Drift About In Calm; Resolute Far Ahead.

Sandy Hook, N. Y., July 27.—The yacht race yesterday was declared off after Resolute and Shamrock had virtually run into a drifting match with no wind. An attempt will be made to run the last race this afternoon. The Resolute was approximately a mile and a half ahead of her rival at the time the announcement was made. Pointing higher into the wind, the defender footed just as fast as Shamrock, and when about six miles from the first turn had established her lead of a mile and a half. Even in the fickle wind at this time Resolute pointed a higher course than the challenger.

Sir Thomas Lipton stated that if he failed this year to capture the America's cup he would challenge again next year for 1922 with a new boat.

AUTO DRIVER IS SERIOUSLY INJURED

When his machine was struck by a big touring car at Collier and Main streets Monday afternoon, the driver of a new Ford automobile, one of a bunch of cars which was being driven through to their destination, was seriously injured.

He was carried into the office of Dr. George Davis who found that he had several broken ribs and internal injuries. He advised the manager of the bunch of drivers to take the young man to his home in Cincinnati and he was hurriedly removed to the train which was due within a few minutes. His name was not learned and the name of the driver of the other car could not be secured.

The Ford machine was jammed against a telephone pole, and the driver caught between the car and pole.

JAPANESE SOURCE OF DISTURBANCE TO THE NORTHWEST

Governor Hart Sees Prospects Of Serious Friction.

Seattle, Wash., July 27.—Pacific northwest residents are becoming exercised over the increasing prominence of Japanese in business. Governor L. F. Hart told the house immigration and naturalization committee, which is here investigating the Japanese immigration situation. The governor said there were prospects of serious friction unless amicable adjustment could be made.

"Our people are not satisfied with present conditions," Governor Hart declared. He asserted that the next state legislature would be asked to pass a bill making more effective a state constitutional provision forbidding ownership of land by aliens, particularly those ineligible to citizenship.

Judge Thomas Burke, pioneer Seattle business man, who has been decorated by the Japanese emperor, declared he thought immigration legislation should be approached in a spirit of friendship, rather than antagonism, toward Japan.

BLAME BLACKHAND FOR MAN'S MURDER ON STREET OF CITY

Shot To Death By Three Armed Men In Cleveland.

Cleveland, O., July 27.—Vengeance of the blackhand is believed today to have overtaken Frank Messario whose bullet riddled body lies at the morgue. Police are investigating.

Messario fell dead on the street after he had pursued three assailants through a hail of revolver bullets for more than a block. He was unarmed and was accompanied by his wife. A dozen suspects have been arrested and will be quizzed by the police today. It is belief of police officials that Messario was killed by members of a blackhand band with which he had had a "falling out." On one other occasion Messario had been attacked and seriously wounded.

REWARDS OFFERED FOR CAPTURE OF OHIO HIGHWAYMEN

Activity Of Auto Bandits Near Columbus Starts Campaign.

Columbus, O., July 27.—Activity of auto bandits on the roads leading into Columbus has induced the Columbus auto club and Sheriff Slack to offer rewards for arrest of the highwaymen. These robbers are armed and operate machines.

Mrs. Betty I. McCarrick, Columbus, is dead. She was shot in the abdomen and thigh by an unknown auto bandit while she was out riding with J. A. McDowell of this city. McDowell shot in the breast and face is expected to recover.

Other local citizens have informed the police of narrow escapes from the bandits. Apparently, the police have been unable to get any clue to the identity of the highwaymen.

ANGLO FRENCH CONFERENCE OVER RUSSIAN PEACE PARLEY BEGINS

Belief Expressed That Lloyd George May Offer Millerand Proposal On Recognition By Soviet Government Of Russia's National Debt; Heavy Fighting Reported In Armenia.

DELEGATION INSTRUCTED.
Vienna, July 27.—The soviet war office has directed the Polish armistice delegates to pass through the Russian lines on the Brest Litovsk road near Baranovitchi at 8 o'clock on Friday night, July 30, according to a Moscow wireless dispatch picked up here today.

FIGHTING CONTINUES.
London, July 27.—There were reports of military activity on the Russo-Polish battle front today despite the soviet government's consent to enter into armistice negotiations with the Poles. A Warsaw dispatch said that "Polish resistance had stiffened," but did not mention any fighting of magnitude. It is assumed that isolated hostilities have occurred.

FRENCH TROOPS ON WAY.
Berlin, July 27.—According to a German news agency dispatch from Frankfurt today French troops are passing through Germany to Poland on the pretext of relieving the French forces of occupation in Upper Silesia.

Bologne, July 27.—An Anglo French conference to discuss details of the proposed peace parley in London between Russia and the Russian border states opened here this afternoon.

THOUSANDS SEE NOTIFICATION OF GOV. COOLIDGE

Vice Presidential Candidate Is Officially Notified.

CITY IN GALA ATTIRE

Northampton Scene Of Republican Rally On Thursday.

Northampton, Mass., July 27.—By motor car, horse drawn vehicles, special trains, trolleys, motorcycles, bicycles and afoot, thousands of persons came to Northampton today to be present on Allen field, Smith college, this afternoon at the exercises attending the formal notification of Governor Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts of his nomination as the Republican candidate for vice president.

This quiet little Hampshire county city, termed by Jennie Lind the "paradise of America," was gaily decorated for the occasion. The business section was literally blanketed with bunting of red, white and blue, from hundreds of homes flew the stars and stripes, and streamers and flags flowed from poles and wires up Main and Elm streets to the classic precincts of Smith college. Posters in windows bore a picture of the governor and the slogan "Law and Order." A warm sun looked down from a clear sky.

A heavy detail of police recruited by the local force from nearby cities and towns handled the big crowds. The White House Inn where Gov. Coolidge, Mrs. Coolidge, their two sons and the governor's father spent the night, was guarded against cranks by a detail from the state police, as was the governor's home.

WAGE QUESTION IS PARAMOUNT ISSUE SAYS SOCIALIST

League Of Nations Blind To Befuddle Labor He Says.

Columbus, O., July 27.—That the league of nations issue is being pushed to the front "to befuddle the working class" and that the wage question is the paramount issue in this year's presidential campaign are claims voiced in an open air speech here by William W. Cox, St. Louis, socialist labor party presidential nominee.

"The nation is gold-poor with the capitalists holding the gold and the working men a few greenbacks," declared Cox, who said that the rising prices for necessities are due to over production of gold and inflated credits.

Cox declared that the existing industrial system is an outgrowth of the old "feudal system in which a majority of the people are workers, but are exploited out of three fourths of their production."

He said the socialist-labor party demands that the "capitalist class surrender all the land and tools of production into the hands of the producers to the end that the man who labors shall receive full benefit from the product of his toil."

Premier Millerand, who arrived at noon was accompanied by Marshal Foch and M. Marshal, minister of finance in the French cabinet. Premier Lloyd George arrived from London at the same time.

The presence here of Minister Marshal is significant indicating that possibly Lloyd George has something to offer Premier Millerand in the way of recognition by the soviet government of Russia's national debt. It was presumed that the British premier desired M. Marshal's expert opinion.

The refusal of the Bolshevik government at Moscow to recognize the debts contracted by the old imperial government of Russia has been the chief stumbling block in the way of recognition of the soviet by France.

This arose from the fact that great quantities of Russian bonds are held by France.

Mr. Lloyd George was somewhat set back when he learned of dispatches from Paris quoting French government officials as saying that France would not participate in a general parley in London unless the United States was an active participant. He refused, however, to make any comment. It was originally believed that the Boulogne conference would be finished tonight but present indications will extend over until tomorrow.

BATTLE IN ARMENIA

London, July 27.—Heavy fighting is in progress along the northern border of Armenia between Russian bolshevik invading troops and the Armenians said a Constantinople dispatch to the Daily Express today.

The Armenian army in the Karabagh sector is fighting desperately to stem the Russian advances.

The Russian offensive is being carried out by a "mystery army" of 60,000 men which the soviet government recently massed at Baku on the Caspian Sea.

More than 50 shots were exchanged in the fight, while 200 pedestrians and employees of the factory looked on. George Haubrock, one of the express paymasters, was shot through the head and is not expected to live. Another messenger, Charles Gaudie, was wounded in the leg.

After Haubrock fell one of the robbers grabbed the box, but was shot down by Gaudie. A second bandit snatched up the money and threw it into the car, but was shot before he could follow and collapsed across the running board. His companions dragged the other wounded man into the machine and it dashed off with one injured man clinging to the running board.

A motorcycle policeman gave chase, but lost the trail after several blocks. Shortly after the first holdup three armed men drove up to the Peterson machine works, almost at the edge of the Loop district, and took $15,000 from Abe Nelson, a stockholder in the concern. Nelson had just reached the plant with the money, which he had drawn from a downtown bank. The men escaped.

Two young men who have been holding up branches of a chain store grocery system here perpetrated their fifteenth robbery within a month, escaping with $750.

AMERICAN MARINES SENT TO CHINA TO PROTECT MISSIONS

London, July 27.—American marines have been sent to Tung Chow, China, to protect American missionaries, according to a Pekin dispatch to the Times today. News had been received in Pekin that Chinese soldiers were surrounding Tung Chow and had begun to loot.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen, former provisional president to the Japanese war office accusing the Japanese of secretly aiding Gen. Chang Tso-Lin in the civil war which has been raging in northeastern China said a Tokio dispatch to the Daily Express, General Chang Tso-Lin was one of the commanders of the Chi Li forces that engaged the Anfu or militarist faction under General Tuan Chi-Jui.

COX ADDRESS OF ACCEPTANCE NEARS END SAYS NOMINEE

Governor Confers With O. E. Bradfute On Monday.

Dayton, O., July 27.—Governor Cox has made considerable progress on his address for Aug. 7, accepting the Democratic presidential nomination. The address, the governor said, will be "just long enough to tell the story," but because of its embryonic stage he could make no definite predictions as to length.

Between shifts on his address the governor conferred with Judge J. G. Johnson of the Ohio supreme court, who made the Cox nominating speech at the San Francisco convention. It was their first meeting since the convention and Governor Cox thanked the judge for the successful outcome of his efforts.

Another caller of the governor's was Oscar E. Bradfute of Xenia, of the Ohio farm bureau and a director of the federal farm bureau as well as former member of President Wilson's industrial commission. Agricultural affairs were the principal topics of the conference.

PISTOL BATTLE BETWEEN FLEETS OF TAXIS RAGES

Drivers Of Cabs Fire Hundreds Of Shots In Feud.

Chicago, July 27.—A battle between a fleet of taxicabs, in which the vehicles were maneuvered according to the best strategy of tank warfare while their drivers fired hundreds of shots at each other raged through the early morning hours on the streets of Chicago's west side today.

The battle was the result of long standing differences between drivers of the Yellow Cab Company and the Checker Taxicab Company, a rival concern.

For hours the battling drivers played every trick of mobile warfare against each other that they could think of strings of yellow cabs in line rushed past the headquarters of the Checker Company at breakneck speed, emptying revolver broadsides into the latter's offices. Rallying the black and white Checkered cabs of the attacked concern dashed out en masse and ripped into the yellows for counter attacks according to the best tactics of shock action.

While these major engagements were being fought numerous individual battles were fought by drivers who, racing their taxicabs hub to hub emptied their pistols at each other at close range.

FEDERAL ACTION ON COAL ISSUE HINGES ON MEET

Attorney General Meets Operators and Business Men Tuesday.

WILL AWAIT REPORT

Government To Delay Action Pending Outcome of Session.

Washington, July 27.—The government's next step in the coal crisis hinges upon the outcome of the conference held in New York today between Attorney General Palmer and coal operators and business men.

The attorney general is expected to make a report on the situation and the results of today's conference before the president takes any further action.

The Interstate Commerce Commission is continuing its efforts to untangle the car shortage and further priority orders are expected to be forthcoming from time to time.

Reports from Illinois that department of labor conciliators had failed to settle the labor difficulties there, were received with some disappointment here, but officials of the department of labor were hopeful that the efforts of the conciliators might still be of avail.

An optimistic report issued from the headquarters of the National Coal Association today declaring "no alarm need be felt by the public as to a coal famine" if plans evolved by the operators and the railroads are carried out. These plans comprehend an increase of 25 per cent in open top car supply, priority in soft coal shipments to Great Lake ports in the northwest, and to tide-water for New England and indurated plans for car distribution.

GERMANY WILL NOT EXPECT PEACE FOR EIGHT MORE MONTHS

Foreign Secretary Gives Conditions For General Peace.

Berlin, July 27.—Germany expects that at least eight more months will elapse before the state of war between the United States and this country is formally and officially terminated, when he said.

Dr. Walter Von Simons, the foreign secretary, revealed this in his speech at the opening of the national assembly, when he said:

"German-American official relations will not be changed before March, 1921."

Discussing Germany's new position brought about by the Russian drive into Poland, the foreign secretary said:

"Germany's situation is most critical. We must recognize the possibility of allied pressure to force Germany to break her neutrality. France is fighting; Great Britain is not neutral and has intervened to save Poland. Entente compulsion for the passage of troops threatens Germany."

BREAKFAST ON LAWN IS ATTRACTIVE AFFAIR

Tables decked with garden flowers were placed on the cool attractive rear lawn of the Kelble home on west Church street for the nine o'clock breakfast given by Mrs. Charles A. Kelble and Miss Gladys Kelble Tuesday.

Guests were received in the house where from clusters of summer flowers each selected a blossom. By means of these blossoms they found the tables at which they were to be seated for breakfast, each table bearing a bouquet of the different flowers which had been given the guests for their selection.

The back lawn, with its shrubbery and flowers is a place of beauty, and its own attractiveness was increased by great bouquets of field flowers, which were placed on pedestals in available nooks. Hidden by a clump of shrubbery, Miss Irene Parrett, a talented young violinist, played a program of music through out the morning.

The morning was ideally lovely and the light summer frocks of the guests made a pretty picture of the gathering against the green of shrubbery and lawn.

After the three course breakfast, the guests were entertained for a time with an interesting contest. Advertisements cut from newspapers and magazines were pinned to tree trunks and shrubbery and the guests told to guess the name of the firm or the brand advertised. Mrs. H. L. Sayre was the most fortunate and was given a basket full of garden flowers.

Xenia friends of Miss McClellan have received engraved wedding invitations reading as follows: "Mr. and Mrs. James Clark McClellan request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Margaret Elta, to Ernest Arthur Cawcutt, on Saturday, the seventh of August, one thousand nine hundred and twenty, at seven thirty o'clock in the evening, First Presbyterian church, Troy, Ohio. The Chamber of Commerce has lent its support to the proposition of having good baseball here this season by endorsing the Cincinnati division team of the Pennsylvania Lines League which will play its home games at Reserve Park in this city, and will play the initial contest with the Richmond, Ind. division Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock at the local yard.

A delegation of Cincinnati division officials is expected to be present at the ball game, and Secretary L. C. Tingley, of the Chamber of Commerce, will meet the officials there at that time. The games will be played in this city through the efforts of Cliff "Racks" Latimer, local road detective, who is managing the ball team, and the Chamber of Commerce urges that fans insure that future games will be played here by coming out to the initial pastime Wednesday. The location of the home park in this city insures fans good baseball for the summer and Manager Latimer is predicting that his club will be a real contender for honors in the Grand Division.

YEARS OF TORTURE BY ECZEMA ENDED

Findlay contractor had sores all over his body from scratching. Hands so sore unable to work all winter.

Declares two bottles of Drecto have healed every sore and stopped the burning and itching.

"If any person who reads this knows what it is to be tormented by that terrible disease Eczema they will easily understand why I am willing to publish my experience for the benefit of other sufferers," are the words of that well known contractor, Mr. Steve Martin, 51 years old and residing on North Main St., Findlay, O.

"For twelve years I've suffered from eczema. Many a night I've rolled and tossed unable to sleep because of this itching, burning disease. I had sores all over my body from scratching. My hands were covered with it and so sore I haven't done any work all winter. I often had dizzy spells and kept a vile taste in my mouth all the time which convinced me that my liver was sluggish."

"I have taken two bottles of Drecto and there isn't a sore on my body and my hands have healed perfectly. My liver has been cleaned off so that no dizzy spells attack me. Drecto has done for me in a few weeks what I have sought for years."

Drecto is known as a powerful blood purifier and system cleanser. It's certain action comes through aiding the vital organs to throw off poisons in the body. Drecto strengthens weak kidneys; rouses a lazy liver; overcomes constipation; aids the stomach in digestion and clears the poison from the blood.

All good druggists now sell Drecto and it is highly recommended in Xenia by Sohn's Drug Store.

THE MYSTERY OF HUMAN DESTINY AS ILLUSTRATED BY OHIO'S CANDIDATES FOR THE PRESIDENCY.

Somehow in the providence of the political life of our country the two leading parties have turned to the great commonwealth of Ohio for their presidential candidates.

It has already been announced that these two men have come up to eminence through the field of journalism. They have both been editors and students of public affairs. They have had a training in dealing with men that has given them wide experience.

It should also be noted that these two men stand at the opposite pole from that where the life of President Wilson and former occupants of that office is located. For some reason the nation for a number of years has been looking for its leadership to its college men. Theodore Roosevelt was a Harvard man, William H. Taft was a supreme court judge, and Woodrow Wilson was a college president. We now seem to be turning from the leadership of college presidents to the graduates of the university of adversity, to men who have been trained in the halls of experience and in the laboratories of common politics, and the libraries of public instruction where the daily paper is the chief medium for the dissemination of information, for neither of the Ohio candidates is a college graduate; neither one has the experience of sitting under the profound instruction of theoretical or speculative or scientific educators in some college or university which at this time would be greatly gratified over their success. But no man would for a moment assert that they are not educated men. There is a university which should always be given some recognition, for its graduates seem to march forward and upward in the teeth of the commonly accepted conceptions of the conditions that make for success. It is the University of Life in which a youth may register and, daily learning by ever studying, gain one height after another until the coveted honors are assured him. One of the great mysteries of life is found frequently reappearing in America. Destiny, seeking her providential man, passes by the halls of learning and the established places from whence her sons have come, turns to the youth suffering poverty and working under the handicap of technical knowledge and lifts him from his prison to the throne. It has been so since the days of Joseph in Egypt, when a youth living his life in a prison hard by Potiphar's house, learned his lesson, mastered the place of his incarceration, and one day passed out too be premier of the land. That is the mystery of human destiny. It is even now being illustrated in Ohio.—Western Christian Advocate.

VOTERS URGED TO ELECT "DRY" CONGRESSMEN THIS FALL.

The liquor men went in force to both great national party conventions determined to have both, or either one, committed to their interests, by inserting a plank in favor of wine, beer, personal liberty and slack enforcement. This they strove for with savage selfishness, so as to make one more stand for avarice and appetite, determined to drag down the nation to beastliness again if possible, and not caring which party they defeated in case they failed to carry through their plans at the election.

The shrewdness of the political managers was manifested when they refused to fall in with the schemes of the liquor men, and refused to favor them by giving them a plank. It shows that the party managers believe that prohibition is entrenched in the hearts of the people so that it would be fatal to a party to oppose it. We believe it was good politics for both parties to refuse encouragement to the saloon element, and to refuse to make prohibition a political issue.

Of course the liquor fight is not over. The effort will be made to elect a Congress that will modify or repeal the Volstead enforcement law. The Anti-Saloon League and other temperance leaders should be vigilant in every Congressional district to secure Congressmen who can be depended on to maintain enforcement of the prohibition amendment, without any increase in the alcoholic content of permitted beverages, and without any weakening of any other provision of the present enforcement law.

There will be much depending on the coming election, and there should be the intelligent, conscientious and determined purpose, on the part of all the people, this fall, to elect men who will work righteousness.

AFTER CONVENTIONS.

Historic now the great conventions, at which our foghorn statesmen raved; both parties reek of those intentions with which the Hades' streets are paved. Both parties frown on those abuses which make our lives one long ordeal, and both would cook the sinful gooses of profiteers who gouge and steal. I listened to the keynote speeches, applauded when the stunts were done; "of all the pebbles on our beaches," I mused, "these statesmen take the bun." I'm glad our woes will soon be over, all finished on election day; oh, then we'll wade around in clover, and raise our glad hurroo, hurra! Both parties give their sacred promise to cure all evils they can reach; for one, I am no doubting Thomas, discrediting a keynote speech. When two great parties are determined to make the world a better place, so scrupulous, bowing and ermined, might think its aspect no disgrace, to them I drink two brimming beakers of tanglefoot (a home made brew); I heard their gifted keynote speakers, and know just what they plan to do.

OBITUARY

Iva Manwilla Bell, only daughter of John and Mattie Bell was born in Sewelsville, Belmont Co., Ohio November 24th, 1866 and departed this life July 18th, 1926, aged 53 years, 7 months and 24 days.

After the death of her father while still quite young she removed with her mother to Adams Co., Ind., where on November 10th 1887 she was united in marriage with Wilson Anderson. Some months afterward she removed with her husband to Greene Co., O., where she has since resided. To them were born two children Eldon Anderson now residing at Washington C. H. O., and Violet at home. These together with the bereaved husband and father and one son and daughter are left to mourn the loss of a devoted Christian mother.

Very early in life she was converted and became a member of the Church of Christ. She never removed her membership but since coming to Ohio she has for many years taken an active interest in the church near which she resided and was solicitous for its welfare contributed liberally for its means to its support, was faithful in her attendance at the Sunday school and all other church services where she will be greatly missed.

She was a good neighbor, a kind and loving mother, and thought nothing too difficult to do for her family if it pertained to their welfare. It was her desire to live to see her children grow to manhood and womanhood. This she was permitted to do. She will be greatly missed in the home, in the church and in the community.

"We can not say and we will not say that she is gone. She is 'just away'."

Be ye also ready for in an hour that ye think not the Son of Man cometh.

We desire to thank the neighbors and friends and all others for the manifest sympathy and kindness shown us while passing through the severe trial which has so recently come upon us.

Sound and Sensible

In almost thirty years of business, the Columbian Building and Loan Company has never lost a dollar for its depositors.

Operating conservatively, and with business foresight, it has in that time paid the regular interest and dividends, and set aside for surplus in excess of $90,000.

That its officers and directors have been close students of building and loan affairs is shown by the foresight that several years ago adopted its

Flexible Plan of Operation

This plan, which we firmly believe will be generally adopted, consists of a movable rate of interest.

When conditions and the current rate of interest justified, The Columbian Building and Loan Company increased the rate on its mortgage loans, through a special clause carried in its mortgage bonds.

That increase, is given entirely to the depositors in the form of

6 Per Cent Interest on Deposits

The fairness of this proposition, by which depositors get all the increase, is equalled by its sound business sense. Whenever money commands a high rate of interest, it is withdrawn from 5% deposits, and the money that normally is deposited with building and loan companies is diverted into other investments that pay higher interest.

Consequently, the building and loan companies then have no money to advance on building loans, and perforce building is halted. That in turn increases rents, so that all suffer. But when our interest rate is high enough to hold and encourage deposits, we have money for building—as we have now.

Our nearly thirty year's experience has shown that the margin of one per cent is sufficient not only for our expenses, but to add a substantial sum each year to our reserves. In other words, our income is fixed at the same percentage, depending in amount only on the volume of our business, and the 6% rate is increasing that volume, thus insuring the perfect safety of your deposit.

If your business sense approves this plan, and you desire to assist in the solution of the acute housing problem, while securing good interest on absolutely safe deposits, we invite your co-operation.

A drama of society for people who think.

Like Eve of old, she reached for the glittering prize offered by the tempter. "Accept this as our engagement pledge," said her gray-headed suitor. She knew that her charms had brought a high price in the Beauty Market. —and she wondered what young Laird would say when he heard.

MARKET AND FINANCIAL NEWS

STOCKS

The stock market gives indication of relapsing into a further period of inactivity without positive trend due chiefly to the dearth of credit and existing uncertainty in business. The technical position is strong. The 1st will undoubtedly show points of strength and weakness enjoy shortlived rallies, and experience relapses. The general tone shows slow but fairly continuous betterment. Discrimination is necessary in purchasing all but the stocks of unquestioned reliability and earning power. The railroad wage award improves the outlook inasmuch as the brotherhoods will hardly choose to engineer a strike in defiance of public opinion.

GRAIN

Market experts are predicting a somewhat lower range of prices for all grains this fall. The old crop surplus together with early consignments of the new crop should insure liberal receipts from now on, conditional upon a reasonably free movement of cars. European demand will decline when the new crops are harvested, it is predicted. Farmers need money and will liquidate at least part of the new crop. To avoid flooding the market they should prepare suitable storage for as much grain on the farm as they are able to finance. Black rust has continued to threaten the spring wheat crop. The wage award, soon after its announcement was not regarded a bullish argument. A serious strike, curtailing, is unlucky. Foreign buying is an uncertain quantity but none the less important in fixing prices.

LIVESTOCK

The satisfactory outcome of the Spa conference suggests a revival of European demand for American meats and a generally better market. The principal need is credit. The latent demand should be enormous. The outlook favors a liberal movement of cattle to the shambles. Bankers regard livestock as a liquid asset and are calling cattle loans when the circumstances permit. The credit stringency naturally reduces stocker and feeder demand and contains a possible menace to the meat industry. Meat production during the first six months of 1920 show a decline amounting to several hundred million pounds from last year's total. No such movement of cattle from the Northwest as obtained last year is anticipated this fall. The Northwest now has an abundance of grass and a shortage of cattle.

COTTON

After recent rains the cotton belt would profit by several weeks of clear warm weather. There has been considerable talk of boll weevil damage and the growth of weeds. Manchester advices are reassuring as they indicate a considerable volume of trade with Russia, India and South America in the future. The American goods trade is still much depressed with prices sagging. The statistical position is neither decidedly bearish nor decided bullish. Exports have been light but world takings of American cotton are well ahead of last year and the world's available supply is smaller. The tenacity with which cotton quotations hold to their perch seemingly indicates a solid foundation beneath the market.

WOOL

Inquiry for wool is picking up and it may be that prices will soon enter upon a rebound from the black depression into which the market has fallen. Low and medium grade wools are slow in coming into general use. Australia and South America hold large stocks of raw wool which can not be moved. Shipments of a new clip wool are coming slowly from the West. Quotations are still nominal and difficult to obtain. Attention is drawn to the government sales in which the remainder of the government's war surplus must be sold. No July sale was held. Late sales may have a depressing effect upon the market although quality of wool sold is better. Buyers in carpet wool find their commodity a drug even when offered at material concessions.

METALS

The number of inquiries pertaining to pig iron for delivery next year is a surprise to the trade. Spot deliveries are limited and hold top-notch prices. The price of coal and coke in the open market has gotten out of hand and adds one more perplexity to those surrounding the iron and steel movement of copper has yet begun.

AGRICULTURE

The railway wage award and the inevitable advance in freight rates, estimated at between 30 and 50 per cent, intimately affect the farmer who must pay a considerable portion of the additional expense. Whether he can pass it on to the ultimate consumer, as business men will do, depends upon market conditions yet determined and the future growth and strength of farm organizations and the movement toward collective bargaining in farm products generally.

Rate advances have one redeeming feature. They will improve railroad credit by executing that provision of the Esch-Cummins law which has renewed investors' confidence in railroad stocks and bonds. The railroads can borrow freely through the issuance of new bonds and will be in a position to order an immense amount of new equipment. New rolling stock alone can permanently relieve the freight congestion. The farmer will benefit, just as well as other users of capital and employers of labor, for efficient transportation is in the end cheap transportation. The free movement of traffic at all times is essential to

Heat—the tube's enemy and the tube that overcomes it

THE one aim of Firestone in building tubes has been to defeat this tube destroyer by increasing heat resistance. Firestone's concentrated effort through the antimony process—a method by which heat-resisting power of the rubber is increased and deterioration reduced—has resulted in the Firestone High-Test Tube—a tube that parallels the quality and service of the Firestone Oversize Cord Tire.

Firestone builds this High-Test Tube bigger in sectional size, which avoids unnecessary stretch and strain when the tube is inflated. Heat-generating tension is therefore reduced.

Firestone's laminated structure—ply upon ply of thin rubber sheets, laid so the grain runs crosswise, produces a stouter tube wall.

Firestone introduced the cured-in valve pad, giving strength at the point of greatest strain.

With greater resistance to heat, greater strength and toughness, the Firestone High-Test Tube takes the same high rank as the Firestone Cord Tire.

Think what a small investment this Firestone High-Test Tube is—to protect your big investment in tires. Tell your dealer you want Firestone High-Test Tubes.

CINCINNATI NINE TO PLAY IN XENIA WEDNESDAY P.M.

Baseball fans here are keez with anticipation of the initial home contest of the season of the Cincinnati division baseball team of the Pennsylvania railroad league.

"Tacks" Latimer's athletes play here Wednesday afternoon at Reserve Park on Cincinnati Ave. having as their opposition the Richmond Division team of the railroad league. The contest will start at three o'clock and a number of Pennsylvania road officials of this division are expected to be in attendance. The brand of ball being played by Latimer's proteges is also expected to be attraction enough to draw a large crowd of the fans out to the Cincinnati Avenue park on that afternoon.

Monday Assistant Division Engineer Bashan and Manager Latimer improved the diamonds at the local park. New rubbers were laid at home plate and the pitcher's box, new bags were prepared ready to stake down, and the diamond put in shape for the first home classic. A big crowd on hand Wednesday afternoon will insure that all the division games will be played here and that fans in this city will see some high-class pastiming on the local lot.

At present the Cincinnati Division outfit has a standing of 506 per cent in the Grand Division averages, having won and lost one. Wetzel, who is rated as Latimer's leading pitching ace, and who helped stop the Zanesville crowd in their tracks last week, will be the hurling for the locals, according to Latimer's latest announcement.

PRESERVING PLUMS
Dried Plums—Select fruit which is ripe. Remove pits by cutting fruit open with a sharp knife. Arrange halves on trays in single layer with pit cavity uppermost.

Treat with sulphur fumes twenty to twenty-five minutes. When liquid collects in the pit cavity the plums are sulphured enough, and are ready to dry. Start drying at a temperature of 130 to 145 degrees F. When the surface begins to wrinkle increase slowly to 175 degrees F.

Properly dried plums are leathery and pliable.

Plum Conserve—Two dozen plums, one-half cup cold water, one-fourth cup nut meats, one-half cup sugar, two oranges, one cup raisins.

Wash plums, stone and cut into pieces. Add seeded raisins, orange pulp and peel, cut very thin. Add sugar and water. Simmer until of marmalade consistency. Add nuts ten minutes before removing from fire.

Plum Sweetmeat—Pit six pounds of plums (six pounds after pitting) and add same amount of sugar. Run three oranges and one lemon through the meat chopper and add to plums, together with two pounds of seeded raisins and one pound of chopped nuts. Boil slowly until of the consistency of jelly and put in glasses. If plums are very tart lemon may be omitted and all oranges used; the nuts may also be omitted if wished.

MEATLESS DISHES.

Corn Pudding—Score and scrape the corn from six medium-sized ears and then place in a mixing bowl and add one onion grated, four tablespoons of finely minced parsley, one teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon of paprika, three eggs, one cup of milk.

Beat to mix and then pour in well-greased custard cups. Set the custard cups in a pan and add water to about one-half depth of the cups. Bake in a slow oven for thirty minutes. Remove from the oven and let stand for two minutes. Take a knife and loosen from the edge and then turn on a thin slice of toast. Garnish with finely minced parsley and then serve with cream sauce.

Egg Plant—Cut the egg plant in half from stem to blossom end. Scoop out the water and then par-boil. Drain well. Now take the cheese and macaroni filling and add the cooked pulp of the egg plant. Fill back into the shell; round up well. Brush with beaten egg and then cover with fine bread crumbs. Bake in a hot oven for thirty minutes and then baste each half of egg plant with two tablespoons of salad oil. Serve with cheese sauce.

Corn Oysters—Grate the corn from four large ears and then place in a bowl and all three-quarters cup of milk, one and one-half cups of flour, one teaspoon of salt, two teaspoons of baking powder, one-half teaspoon of paprika, two teaspoons of grated onion, four tablespoons of finely minced parsley. Beat to mix and then fry like fritters.

"JUST A GIRL"

BY JANE PHELPS

THE REASON WHY

CHAPTER 73

IT WAS my clothes—plus my abundant hair, which I wore plainly knotted and low on my neck, plus the undesired but now patent admiration of the objectionable floorwalker—that had brought about my discharge.

When I look back at those days which seemed so tragic to me, I feel like smiling in self-pity. Yet I was more fortunate than many others. I had a companion in Mary, one whom could both love and trust, and I knew Mother was being well cared for—that she would not suffer for anything really necessary.

I think had it not been for this—the thought that Mother was all right—could not have gone on. Often the covert taunts and sneers of the girls were hard to bear, and when they ignored me, it was not much better. I was just a girl, too, and it was hard to feel out of everything.

I now realize that mine was the same story of discouragement, hope and despair that comes to many girls I was without friends or associates save only Mary Murphy. Many nights I went to bed my appetite unsatisfied because of some extra expense I had been obliged to use my money for.

I had learned to do my own laundry but often was obliged to wear my underclothes unironed because of lack of time and strength. A pair of shoes a hat even gloves, meant days of self-denial.

"There is a better way and some day I shall find it." I often said to Mary when, discouraged, we would talk things over.

"Tain't no use to try to do anything when we ain't got no money."

"We shall not get to do anything different until you stop saying, 'ain't' and 'tain't.'"

"I know it! But I forget all the time."

"I didn't mean that!" I replied, repentant at once when I saw Mary's humility. "It really doesn't matter as much as you think. I only correct you for your own sake."

"I wish you would beat me when I say them words."

"All right, I will!" I smiled at her use of 'them.' But what difference did it make after all? It was the goodness of the girl, her tender heart, that counted, not the ability to speak correctly.

Mrs. Fagin was a dear. She was so kind to us, and often helped us with good sensible advice.

"Never mind, dearie," she would tell me when I came in almost too tired to stand. "You'll git used to it by and by. It's the bein' on your feet all day what tires you so."

I often thought of pawning the rest of my jewelry. But I didn't dare. I might get sick. Mother might fall ill, and I would then have nothing upon which I could raise money. I would have to go to her should she be really ill, and she would have to have doctors and medicine. There was also another reason why I hated to part with my necklace and ring—Dad had given them to me with such loving words, such a warmth of affection, shortly before he left us, that I felt I couldn't let them go unless it were positively necessary.

You see, I had learned a good deal since I had become a working girl. I had learned that one can live on very little, that a bottle of milk and bread or crackers for a change, makes a very good supper; that a cup of coffee made in my room and a couple of rolls bought at the bakery the night before, was all that I needed in the morning; that for very little a girl can get a substantial lunch at many places in the shopping district. Or what I once had spent for a theater ticket, I lived now for a week. And strange as it may seem I kept well I had not missed a day from my work because of illness.

"He'll git her some day or she'll lose her job!" one of the girls said loudly. I couldn't help but hear. The floor walker had stopped in front of the counter, and had kept me talking to him for some minutes, his errand patently just to make me talk.

I thought at first she meant he would discharge me did I not act as I enjoyed his conversation. When I came over me, as I heard one of the girls reply to her, that she had hinted at something very different, a nausea came over me.

Then one day I learned she was right.

Tomorrow—An Unpleasant Episode.
